LEADER'S STATEMENT

TAKELE M. AMARE
Founder and CEO

Trade is the lifeblood of the global economy, and it is the responsibility of trading company CEOs to ensure that trade is conducted in a fair, sustainable, and ethical manner.

Mr. Takele is a seasoned event and hospitality industry expert based in Maryland, USA, with over three decades of experience in creating world-class guest experiences and high-level corporate gatherings. Throughout his career, he has specialized in luxury event management, international protocol, and large-scale hospitality operations within the vibrant Maryland and DC metropolitan markets.

In addition to his hospitality expertise, Mr. Takele has been a prominent figure in international trade, actively marketing and distributing premium Ethiopian products, including specialty coffee and traditional alcoholic beverages, across the United States and European markets. By bridging the gap between Ethiopian producers and global consumers, he has successfully positioned these cultural staples in high-end retail and hospitality venues, leveraging his deep understanding of global market trends and consumer behavior.

His motto, "Empower a producer to reach the world, & they will prove that quality knows no borders."

A message to our clients:

Dear Clients,

My colleagues and I are committed to providing you with the best possible advice and support in any of the services that our organization offers. Please do not hesitate to contact any of us and let us know how we can better serve you

Sincerely,

Takele Mamo

ACACIA RESORT HOTEL BISHOFTU- SUBSIDIARY

Acacia Resort Hotel Bishoftu is our flagship hospitality development, currently in the pre-construction phase and supported by a 150 million Euro concessional loan. Designed as a world-class destination, this resort will serve as the premier hub for international travelers, diplomats, investors, and dignitaries participating in tourism and business events. This landmark hotel is a key component of a broader strategic expansion. Following the successful launch in Bishoftu, we are establishing a prestigious chain of four luxury resort properties across four strategic regions of Ethiopia: Oromia, South Ethiopia, Amhara, and Tigray.

A

Acacia's Gold Standard

The inaugural property, Acacia Resort Hotel Bishoftu, will set the gold standard for the brand, leveraging the region's natural beauty and its proximity to the capital. Much like our industrial initiatives, this hospitality project is designed to be a significant engine for professional growth, tapping into a vast talent pool of highly trained hospitality managers, culinary experts, and service professionals. These individuals are ready to provide world-class service while driving economic and social transformation in their home regions.

B

WSIP's Expected output

The Bishoftu property, initially developed with an investment of 150 million Euro, marks the beginning of a significant undertaking by this hospitality chain. Their ambitious plan represents a multi-billion Euro vision, signaling a substantial commitment to the Ethiopian tourism sector. This expansive vision aims to redefine the standards of luxury tourism experiences within the country, offering a new level of sophistication and exclusivity. Furthermore, the chain intends to transform the landscape of corporate hosting across Ethiopia, providing unparalleled facilities and services for businesses.

GLOBO HYDRO POWER LTD - SUBSIDIARY

Globo Hydro Power (GHP) is a flagship project designed as a comprehensive technological solution for decarbonizing the transportation and manufacturing industries. Located strategically in the city of Addis Ababa, and its surrounding in Ethiopia, GHP will also serve as a leading educational center for the renewable energy industry in Ethiopia and beyond, establishing itself as the most advanced green energy structure in Africa.

The Financial Projections:

The initial investment required for GHP to build and run it for the first three months is estimated to be $5million. Of this, 75% will be allocated for capital costs, such as facility, machinery & equipment, vans & trucks, and training. The remaining 25% will be for startup costs, such as supplies, salaries, insurance, depreciation, amortization of loans, and running the business.

The GHP will consist of a variety of buildings and facilities:

- For Global Energy Players: The GHP provides international investors and energy conglomerates with direct access to cutting-edge "Made in Africa" green technologies, including the Hydrogen-Enhanced Internal Combustion Engine Kits and large-scale solar power integration modules. To facilitate seamless market entry, the company offers specialized technical, legal, and carbon-credit accounting support, ensuring global partners can finalize high-value B2G and B2B energy transition deals with efficiency.
- A Center for Educational Excellence: Most importantly, the GHPH serves as a premier industrial educational center. In collaboration with world-renowned technical universities and higher educational institutions, the GHP hub offers African students the opportunity to specialize in Hydrogen Engineering, Renewable Energy Management, and Sustainable Manufacturing. By providing world-class training within Africa at affordable costs, the Hub is building the human capital necessary to power the continent's green industrial revolution.

Source of Funds:

30% from local sources (government, private sector, and any other entity that can afford to buy shares) in cash or in kind (land, building materials, labor, etc.)

70% from development finance institutions in Africa, including:

- RentCo Africa: 30% in asset leasing
- Local Development Bank: $20 million in business loans
- Private Equity: 20% in loans
- Foreign Investment: 30% in loans
